Summer Reading 2009 — Express yourself @ DC Public Library

is a cooperative project with the National Collaborative Summer Library Program which promotes high quality summer reading activities for children and teens.

The programs and services of Express yourself @ the DC Public Library are made possible through the financial support and generosity of these organizations and foundations: DCPL Foundation, Institute of Museum and Library Services, Reading Is Fundamental, and Washington National Opera.

For more information about the summer reading program, stop by your neighborhood library, call (202) 727-4804 or visit us at dclibrary.org.
